The Humble ADDRESS of the Houſe of Commons to the King.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majeſty's moſt Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great Britain in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return Our humbleſt Thanks for Your Majeſty's moſt Gracious Speech from the Throne; and to acknowledge, in the moſt grateful Manner, Your Majeſty's Tender and Affectionate Concern for the Welfare of Your People, in ſteadily purſuing ſuch Meaſures, as have tended towards Peace and Accommodation, rather than to involve too precipitately this Kingdom and all Europe in a general and bloody War.

Among ſo many differing Intereſts and contending Powers ingaged in the preſent War, it is Your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Goodneſs alone, which could have ſecured to Us Our preſent happy Situation, and the Crown of Great Britain could never appear with greater Honour and Luſtre, than by Your Majeſty's interpoſing Your Good Offices between the contending Parties: And as they have received them with due Reſpect, We cannot but hope, their own Prudence will help to compleat ſo deſireable a Work.

It is Our Duty, and We beg Leave, to expreſs the greateſt Gratitude to Your Majeſty, for the Care and Concern, which muſt have attended Your unwearied Endeavours both in beginning and carrying on thoſe Good Offices, which being accepted have brought Things to ſo great a Forwardneſs, that a Plan in Concert with the States General may in a ſhort Time be offered to the Conſideration of all the Powers ingaged in the War: which, notwithſtanding the great Difficulties that muſt attend ſo great a Work, may ſerve for the Baſis of a general Negotiation of Peace, conſiſtent with the Honour and Intereſt of all Parties, as far as the Circumſtances of Time and the preſent Situation of Affairs will permit.

If theſe Meaſures, concerted for the common Repoſe and Tranquillity of all Europe, ſhould unhappily meet with any Diſappointment, Your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Care muſt be acknowledged to have deſerved that Succeſs, which the Wiſeſt Counſels cannot always command. But, whatever the Event may be, We beg Leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, that This Houſe will Chearfully and Effectually raiſe ſuch Supplies, as ſhall be neceſſary for the Honour and Security of Your Majeſty and theſe Kingdoms, and Enable Your Majeſty to act that Part, which Honour, and Juſtice, and the True Intereſt of Your People ſhall call upon Your Majeſty to undertake.

PARIS, December 11.

THE Town of Capua, in Naples, the only Mark of the Emperor's Regality in the Kingdom, is at length reduced; its moſt powerful Foe was Famine, againſt which the Garriſon has ſtood very powerful Attacks: If the Hunger within did not break down the Walls, it open'd the Gates, which was the very ſame Thing in Effect; however, the Town had the Honour of a Capitulation, they did not ſurrender themſelves Priſoners of War, as all the other Fortreſſes had done; and in Virtue thereof the Garriſon is to be tranſported to Trieſte, but under an Engagement nevertheleſs that none of thoſe Troops ſhall ſerve againſt the Allies during one Year from the ſaid Capitulation. We fear that the Troops employ'd againſt this Town will be diverted from joining our Army in Lombardy, as was expected; on the contrary, they talk that they will very ſoon be tranſported to Sicily, in order to clear that Iſland of the Imperial Yoke by compleating the Conqueſt of it before the Arrival of a certain Maritime Power in the Mediterranean Sea.

It was on the 20th of laſt Month, that the Chevalier Zinzendorff came out of the Town, with Propoſals for the Surrender of the Place; he was received by the Duke of Berwick in a Manner with which he had Reaſon to be pleas'd, and entertain'd at Dinner. In the Afternoon the Chevalier return'd to the Town with an Anſwer to the Propoſals he brought, and was to come back the next Day alſo to Dinner, which he did, and the Capitulation was ſoon agreed upon as above, without coming to Particulars. The Garriſon had at that Time, as we are aſſured from ſufficient Hands, neither Wine nor Brandy, and the Soldiers got but eight Ounces of very bad Bread in the 24 Hours, three Ounces of Rice, and three of bad Salt Meat a Day; and beſides this, they had no Light, neither Candles nor Oil, and deſtitute of all other Neceſſaries. Some little Time before the Capitulation, the Dutcheſs of Madaloni, the Princeſs of Stigliona, Converſuno, and other Ladies, reſolv'd to go dreſs'd in Amazonian Habits, and make a Viſit to the Duke of Berwick in the Spaniſh Camp before Capua, where being arriv'd, they were received very courteouſly by the ſaid Duke, who ſhewing them all they diſired to ſee of the Works of the Siege, he told them, that they ſhould not only ſee the Trenches and Batteries, but be conducted to the Cannon of the Fortreſs. Whereupon the Duke ſent a Trumpet to General Traun, Commandant of the Place, deſiring him not to fire the Cannon, becauſe ſuch Ladies were coming to ſatisfy their Curioſity. The Commandant anſwer'd very civilly, that the Ladies did him a great deal of Honour; that they might not only come under the Cannon of the Town, but approach cloſe to the Baſtions, which having done, they were ſaluted and complimented by the Commandant: and the Chevalier Zinzendorff, who told the Dutcheſs that they were poor Priſoners, and ſtood in need of every Thing, and deſired her to ſend him a Bottle of good Canary, ſuch as he had often drank at her Houſe in Rome. The Dutcheſs promis'd the gallant Chevalier to do it, and in two Days arriv'd two great Caſes filled with Wine, Roſa Solis, Chocolate and Coffee for him and the Commandant, who were very ſenſible of the Generoſity of the ſaid Lady.

Warſaw, Jan. 4. We have Advice that General Sagriſky, who commands a body of the Ruſſian Forces, having had occaſion to paſs the Viſtula at Ianowitz, fell into an Ambuſcade of Poliſh Troops, who cut the Muſcovites to pieces, and made themſelves Maſter of that General's Baggage.

Dantzick, Jan. 8. King Staniſlaus has diſpatch'd circular Letters to all the Foreign Officers that have engag'd in his Service, to direct them to repair instantly to the Army in Poland.

London, December 28. The Prince and Princess of Orange arrived the 23d Instant, N. S. about Six in the Evening, at Breda, in good Health: They were met at Sundert by an Officer and 30 Men, whom the Governor had detach'd to escort their Highnesses; When they enter'd the Gates of the Town, they were saluted with a triple Discharge of the Cannon upon the Ramparts, the Bells also rung, & the Streets through which they pass'd were finely illuminated; as was likewise the Tower of the Great Church: Their Highnesses proceeded to the Castle, which had been formerly one of the Places of Residence belonging to the Family of Nassau, and were soon after attended by the Governor and Officers of the Garrison, the Chief Magistrate of the City, and a great Number of Persons of Distinction. As soon as they had alighted at the Castle, a Guard mounted there, consisting of a Captain, two Lieutenants, an Ensign, and 100 Men, and their Highnesses had likewise another Guard in their Antichamber. Their Highnesses accepted an Invitation to dine next Day with the chief Magistrate, and were accordingly conducted to the Town-House next Day amidst the universal Acclamations of the People. The Burghers were under Arms, and in the Evening there were Illuminations and Fire-Works as the preceeding Night. Saturday being Christmas Day, according to the New-Stile, both the Prince and Princess assisted at Divine Service, as they did on Sunday, and next Morning proceeded on their Journey to the Hague, where they arrived in good Health on Wednesday was Sev'night, of which an Account was brought to Court by a Messenger, who arrived at St. James's last Saturday Morning.
